Tibberton & Cherrington Wildlife Group

If the recent pattern of increasingly hot, dry summers and devastating wildfires has made you think about how we may need to adapt and mitigate the worst effects of climate change, an event at Church and Chetwynd Aston Village Hall on Friday, September 4th should be of interest.

Allan Wilson, Chair both of Sustainable Newport and Edgmond PC, has sent an open invitation to 'The People's Emergency Briefing', a local event which is part of a national programme of meetings. It runs from 6.30pm – 9.30pm, but attendees can stay for just part of the event. There will be a series of film reports from leading academic experts, followed by an opportunity for discussion. To book a free ticket, goto <https://buytickets.at/sustainablenewportshropshire/2317169>

Please note that, although it's recognised that the severest impact of climate change and environmental damage could be felt by today's children as they reach adulthood, the content of this meeting is considered only suitable for 16+ year olds.

For more general information about the event, search 'National Emergency Briefing' on-line.
